

Here for you. And your safety.
We're taking these steps every day.

Virtual visits for patients and loved ones available and encouraged

Dedicated building entrances with visitor screening stations

Limited number of visitors; all are screened at arrival

Screening stations, temperature checks and mask confirmation at arrival

Increased hand hygiene practices

Patients tested prior to most procedures

Reconfigured seating areas to allow for safe distancing

Elimination of communal water, food and beverage stations

Separation of patients according to positive/negative status

Universal masking required

Consumer hotline staffed by nurses to help address questions and concerns

Staff screened at arrival; symptomatic caregivers must stay home

Keeping you safe is our primary concern.
Working together, we can all stay safe.
